Rebecca Kennard, is the founder of “Transformations for Children and Adults.” She has been in private practice with BIT since 1991 working individually with 10-15 children and adults per week. She also conducts seminars on a regular basis at which parents and professionals alike learn how to alleviate the detrimental effects of learning disabilities. Becky has a BS in English from Colorado State University in Pueblo. She received initial training in BIT from Dianne Craft MA, CNHP of Littleton, CO. Since that time Becky’s passion for research and development have brought additional changes and improvements to the process. The use of the “Sparker” is her innovation and has greatly improved the efficacy and permanence of the therapy.

Brain Integration Therapy Using the “Sparker”

This class in how to use the “Sparker” is an advanced level course usually taught in conjunction with our Level One Course in Brain Integration Therapy. These techniques can be used in conjunction with Repatterning or they can also be used by parents to keep children “tuned up” without actually Repatterning. The techniques for using the instrument will be demonstrated in the context of Repatterning for Visual, Auditory and Kinesthetic integration. More than ten years of experience with this kind of instrument has shown that the use of the “Sparker” multiplies the permanence and efficacy of TBIT Therapy. Suggestions will be made in class as to how this instrument may be utilized in other situations and settings. Suggestions for reading materials and reference works to help make the instrument even more useful will be given in class.

The “Sparker”

The “Sparker” is a self-energizing electrical generator that re-establishes the normal flow of electrical energies in the body that are necessary for the body to maintain normal functions. Putting the body in a “normal” electrical state will allow the body its best opportunity to correct any dysfunctions that may be present.

Everything in the universe is made of electrical particles. The air we breathe...The water we drink...The food we eat...All substances (matter) are electro-molecular compositions. Our bodies are masses of controlled electro-magnetic fields. When these fields are disturbed by stronger interfering energies the normal flow of electrical energies vital to the body's well being are altered. Thus, the electrical systems of the entire body are affected.

A lack of electrical balance in the system can be caused by trauma, stress, abuse and/or any type of deficiency. Most of the energies of the body are produced when cells of any type are stressed (twisted) giving off their electrical potential. This is the piezo-electric effect. The energy produced is either positive or negative. These function as switches to activate or suppress the electrical flow in the system.

The “Sparker” uses piezo-electric energies to neutralize (or normalize) spurious electrical fields in the body's circuitry. When the body is in the normal electrical state, it has its best chance of repairing itself, provided that the raw materials are available in the body.

When the energy pathways are clear, electrical messages are quickly transmitted and received, causing the body's natural responsive actions to be efficient and more effective.

AcuTherapy

AcuTherapy is the art of normalizing the electrical fields in the body using a piezo-electrical instrument. AcuTherapy's purpose is to re-establish the normal flow of electrical energies necessary for the body to maintain its normal functions. This is called homeostasis.

The “Sparker” is only one modality that can be used to return the body to this more normal electrical flow. Tapping on acupressure points will also produce similar results. Repatterning also seeks to return the body and brain to a state of balance. It is our belief that the combination of AcuTherapy with TBIT Repatterning multiplies the efficacy of either therapy used separately. In private practice we have found that this combination produces quicker, safer and longer lasting results than either method used separately.

The “Sparker”

The “Sparker” Instrument is a self-energizing electrical generator that produces non-polarizing electrical energy. Professionals who use such instruments in treatment settings use the EMS (attended) code to bill for the service. The instrument is capable of furnishing mechanical, thermal and electrical stimulation without under or over stimulating the nerve fibers. The “Sparker” cannot magnetize, demagnetize or create a static electric field. It is made with special parameter ceramic crystals that are proprietarily tuned to bring the nerve fibers to homeostasis.

Please note: Diagnosing and treating specific medical problems should only be done by qualified licensed medical professionals. Medical diagnosis is not necessary in balancing the body using the “Sparker”. We are not attempting in this class to teach you how to diagnose and correct medical conditions.

SPARKER CLASS AGENDA

A. Hand out the instruments and introduce the concepts related to it.

B. Class discussion concerning books and other resources to help you use the “Sparker” most effectively.

C. The Brain in Three Dimensions

- Laterality---The ability to coordinate left and right especially in the visual, auditory and kinesthetic midfield.
- Focus---The ability to coordinate back and front. This is related to comprehension, acting on the details and understanding new information in context.
- Centering---The ability to coordinate the top and bottom areas of the brain. This skill is related to organization, physical and emotional grounding, feeling and expressing emotions, personal space and rational response.

D. Repatterning Demonstration---How to use the “Sparker” to help promote Visual, Auditory and Kinesthetic brain integration.

E. Participants will then use the instrument to practice each of these demonstrated activities with a partner.

F. Questions!
